Canoe Creek In Osceola Cleared Of Car Fish
Canoe Creek up in Osceola county, which is a dug canal between two large lakes, for years has been one of the favorite fishing grounds in that section. Some three years ago a range owner did a lot of digging and damming on his place, which practically destroyed the creek for fishing. This condition has been remedied by the state, so that the stream can again become a popular fishing spot.

Tom Lanier and Arthur Partin, game wardens, recently cleaned the creek for predatory fish and got 1200 pounds of gars, mud fish and suckers, 251 bass, 59 bream and 167 pounds of catfish.

and cause of Williams' death was apparent, but if called, it will be only to close up Williams' prison dossier. Mrs. Krumsiegal stated to law officers that on Sunday night her family had been into Belle Glade to attend church and had returned home and being in a hurry to hear the 11 o'clock news broadcast, had not stopped to take her purse and other articles from the car, and left the keys in the car. That soon after she reached her room, she heard the roar of the car starting and it was driven to the north end of the island where the thieves found no passage way out.

The Krumsiegal family erected a barricade across the roadway to prevent the car from making its way southward again and armed, guarded the barricade till morning.

With a Lee farm truck and man assistance, Mrs. Krumsiegal made a trip to the head of the island and there she found her car abandoned.

It was this clue that led the prison officials to believe that some of the escaped prisoners were hiding on the island and they set up their search accordingly.

Mrs. Krumsiegal's purse, containing over $100, was missing from the car when she recovered it.

This consists of building up and double surfacing.

SUGAR CORPORATION (Continued From Page 1) Exports from President Weatherford's address are as follows: "I and my fellow officers of the corporation would like to give 15 cents for the sugar cane crop when we saw the general condition of the fields and the damage done by wind and water from the hurricane last September. But more than to thank the organization, particularly the drainage and agricultural divisions, for accomplishing the tremendous amount of work that had to be done to bring the crop up to the processing point."

"The company is greatly interested in creating business and expects to do some more external work, but will not put a lot of more into any one project until it has been tried and proven. We propose this season to bail our refuse basins for industrial use, rather than use it for fuel purposes as has been done in past years. The corporation is greatly interested in the cane industry, and we will aid its expansion so that it will be second to none in the state. I consider the company's 2500 head of cattle sufficient to supply I have seen in the north or west portions of the nation."

"GROWING PAINS" (Continued From Page 1) The company and our shortest day is longer by an hour than the shortest day in Ch. Corn bred in Gainesville, Fla. is of no particular value in the Glades. You can move corn away from the equator, but not nearer, if you want the best yield from the variety. Therefore corn for seed from which to get that 200 bushel corn must come from south of us. This thing is definite—it has been proven time and again—and even just a few minutes difference in length of days makes a difference.

The time to plant in the Glades therefore, are. For spring corn plant just as early as you can reasonably expect not to be killed by the late frosts. If you've corn land you may plant as early as February 1st for best production. For fall corn Aug. 1st, is the day and not later than September 15th.

We're going to give you another dose of this interview next week, because of its immediate importance to the Glades. Methods of planting, fertilization, cultivation and disease and pest control will be discussed. We will follow that about harvesting, processing and selling, or the use of the product.

Local Youth Steals New Truck At South Bay To Ride Home

A new Dodge pickup belonging to Gerald Walker and J. C. Bowen, which was parked adjacent to their place of business at the Texaco Station Tuesday afternoon was appropriated by a young lad, who simply got in and drove off while the proprietors were in a back room for a few minutes.

He was seen driving the truck between 10 and 11 o'clock Tuesday night and was seen at the truck at Belle Glade but at Belle Glade the trail vanished although the theft was reported immediately and the description given and was on the air for highway patrolmen within the hour after it was taken.

Thursday Constable Whitlock discovered the truck parked in Baker's field and notified the owners to come and get it. It was unharmed, windows rolled up, and the keys in the truck. Franklin Baker, 13 years of age, who had recently come to Belle Glade with his parents was picked up and confessed that he had been unable to catch a ride from South Bay home and on impulse had taken the truck. He was brought before the South Bay Court and placed on probation for one year reporting every two weeks either to Chief of Police Payne or Mayor W. M. Jeffries.
